

IT WOMEN MASTERMIND GROUPS

When women support other women, amazing things happen. Together, women can do more, go further and change the world! ITeffectivity offers unique, six-month virtual Mastermind groups focused on empowering self-identified female Aspiring, Middle-management and Executive IT Leaders. In these small, personalized sessions, peers from different companies serve as valuable advocates, advisors, and mentors to each other, facilitated by top CIOs turned Executive Coaches. As a result, members make positive changes to their working style while expanding their network and establishing lifelong friendships!

PROGRAM FEATURES

Mastermind Group Discussions

ITeffectivity brings a unique approach to traditional Mastermind programs. Driven from the concept of “Women Empowering Women,” a maximum of six like-minded women from different companies come together virtually twice a month, over a six-month period, to share their stories, brainstorm, and guide one another on topics of their choosing — all under the facilitation of former CIOs turned Executive Coaches. Injected into the format is an “Inspiration Igniter,” providing more specialized time to one woman, per session, to discuss her personal situation and challenges. In return, she receives “feed-forward” advice from her peers and coaches while obtaining concrete actions to focus on with newfound confidence!

Focused Cohorts

- Aspiring IT Leaders – Dedicated to high potential or newly appointed women in IT Management roles as they work towards or make the transition into Leadership positions
- IT Middle Managers – Dedicated to Women Leaders of small to large Technology Teams and functions that report into Executive Management
- IT Executives – Dedicated to Senior Level Women in IT who run large scale Technology functions, Teams, and budgets with critical decision-making authority for their firms

“Generally, change in our society is incremental, I think. Real change, enduring change, happens one step at a time.”
